

Un invito

Write a nice conversation between yourself and a friend. Follow the following points:

1. Greet your friend and invite him/her to do something with you (specify activity, day, time);
2. Your friend declines and explains why;
3. You offer an alternative (specify activity, day, time);
4. Your friend declines again, explains why, and offers an alternative (specify activity, day, time);
5. You decline, explain why, and offer another alternative (specify activity, day, time).
6. Your friend accepts.

Make sure to use at least two different activities in this conversation. Write as best you can.

If you continue the conversation after point 6 (one more exchange, for example) you may get extra points.
